Ticketing Time Limit changes

From 1st September 2026, Virgin Atlantic are updating Ticketing Time Limits (TTLs) for selected fare products, including IT fares, which will move from 30-day to a 42-day ticketing deadline before departure*. The changes simplify Virgin Atlantic's ticketing policy, improve consistency across markets, and align with their Joint Venture partners.

Please continue to check the applicable fare rules and issue tickets within the required TTL. Failure to do so may result in cancelled booking segments and an ADM.
